Postdoc Roundtable

The Office for Postdoctoral Scholars has been hard at work all year to bring programming that is directly relevant to you, our postdocs! We have been listening carefully to the Postdoc Advisory Committee, the Women's Postdoc Committee, and individual postdocs, and we are excited to introduce the Postdoc Roundtable: an informal lunchtime meeting where you can come together and discuss any range of topics and issues relevant to your research, career development, work/life balance, etc.

The first Postdoc Roundtable will take place at noon on Wednesday, April 11. Postdocs interested in coming together for this session can enter their names and preferred discussion topics here. You will need to use your ND email and the link in order to edit the spreadsheet. The Office for Postdoctoral Scholars will provide the location, you provide the content!
