Postdoc Roundtable

The Office for Postdoctoral Scholars has been hard at work all year to bring programming that is directly relevant to you, our postdocs! We have been listening carefully to the Postdoc Advisory Committee, the Women's Postdoc Committee, and individual postdocs, and we are excited to introduce the Postdoc Roundtable: an informal lunchtime meeting where you can come together and discuss any range of topics and issues relevant to your research, career development, work/life balance, etc.

Postdocs interested in coming together for a Postdoc Roundtable can enter their names and topics here for an upcoming session. You will need to use your ND email and the link in order to edit the spreadsheet. A topic (academic job market, sharing successes and failures) has been entered by a postdoc for the first roundtable to be held on April 11. Please enter your name here if you are interested in joining!
