Postdoc News

We would like to congratulate two of our postdocs, Guido Camargo España (Biological Sciences) and Jesus Alonso (Chemistry and Biochemistry), on being awarded Postdoctoral Training Awards in Translational Research from the Indiana Clinical and Translational Sciences Institute (CTSI)!

This prestigious fellowship is designed to provide an "opportunity to be mentored in research-intensive multidisciplinary settings toward the goal of developing careers in translational research."

Guido will conduct simulation modeling to estimate dengue vaccine profiles from trial results, and Jesus will develop a structure-guided design and characterization of a T cell receptor that is used in cancer immunotherapy for treating metastatic melanoma, or skin cancer that has spread to other areas of the body. Read more about their research projects here.

Congratulations, Jesus and Guido!

Colleges of Science and Engineering - Joint Annual Meeting 2018
The Colleges of Science and Engineering - Joint Annual Meeting (COSE-JAM) for Graduate Students and Postdoctoral Scholars will take place in Jordan Hall on Friday, December 7, 2018.

This all-day event will consist of morning podium presentations, a lunchtime panel discussion with the Associate Director of the Office for Postdoctoral Scholars as well as multiple Directors of Graduate Studies from both colleges, followed by an afternoon poster session and concurrent social reception.

All graduate students and postdoctoral scholars are invited to participate. Do not hesitate to present work in preparation for upcoming meetings and interviews as well as from recent conferences.

To participate, please submit abstracts of 300 words or less by Thursday, November 29, 2018. Please limit the number of figures and click here to submit abstracts. Please indicate if you have a preference for an oral or poster presentation when submitting your abstract.

If you have questions about participating in COSE-JAM or the abstract submission process, contact Prof. Matthew Ravosa, Biological Sciences. For further information, click here.

URM Postdoctoral Enrichment Program

Are you an underrepresented minority postdoctoral research associate in biomedical sciences with no more than 36 months of postdoctoral research experience?

The Burroughs URM Postdoctoral Enrichment Program award provides a total of $60,000 over three years to support the development of a URM postdoctoral fellow in a degree-granting or research institute in the United States or Canada. They are accepting application now and the deadline is January 16, 2019.

This grant doesn't pay the postdoc salary. Rather, it meant to allow the postdocs to explore new projects with the potential of taking that projects with them as an independent investigator. The fund can also be used to attend national or international meetings, take part in workshops, or other educational or professional activities.

A current Notre Dame faculty member and a former awardee, Prof. Felipe Santiago-Tirado will be happy to help you if you consider applying for the award. If you are interested, please check the following links.
