Research Ethics Beyond the Regulations: Ethical Virtues in Scholarly Research
Research ethics can often focus on adherence to rules and regulations. This session will explore in what ways virtue ethics can improve our understanding of research ethics. Can thinking about virtues and the aims of scholarship provide practical guidance in identifying and navigating ethical issues in research? Can it point toward a more unified research ethics across all scholarly disciplines?

Presenter: Allan Loup, Assistant Program Director, Ethics (The Graduate School)

Date: March 8
Time: 12:00 p.m
Location: Duncan Student Center, Room 512

Teaching Well Using Technology
Get a jumpstart on the “Teaching Well Using Technology” certificate or finish the entire program in a week! Each session prepares you to complete one of the modules required for the certificate. We'll provide enough time to complete at least half of the necessary work, but it may take one to three more hours to finish. See more information and register here.

Dates: Monday and Tuesday, March 11 and 12
Time: 9 a.m. to 3 p.m.
Location: DeBartolo Hall 331

8th annual Cancer Research Day
